DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive the Appeal Brief filed February 5, 2009.
2. Claims 47-53, 55-63, 65-72, 74, and 75 have been reconsidered/examined, and all remained pending claims are allowed (renumbered 1-26).

4. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Austin, Registration No. 42,273, on April 21, 2009 to clarify the claim language and obviate any potential 35 USC 101 issue.

IN THE CLAIMS:

Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance

5. As Applicants pointed out in the Remarks filed July 8, 2008, the prior art of record (Tominaga) does not disclose and/or fairly suggest at least claimed limitations recited in independent claim 47 "...a loading table that indicates which of the plurality of individual software components are loaded into the volatile memory and which of the plurality of individual software components are not loaded into the volatile memory, wherein the individual software components that are loaded into the volatile memory correspond to a configuration of the multi-function peripheral, and wherein the individual software components that are not loaded into the volatile memory do not correspond to the configuration of the multi-functional peripheral" and similarly recited in such manners in other independent claims 57 and 67 (Remarks filed July 8, 2008, pp. 12-15).

As Appellants pointed out in the Brief filed February 5, 2009, the Christop reference is disqualified as prior art for purpose of 35 USC 103 against the claimed invention because the Christop reference and the present application were, at the time the claimed invention was made, both assigned to Sharp Laboratories of America, Inc. (Brief, pp. 9-11).

These claimed limitations are not present in the prior art of record and would not have been obvious, thus all pending claims are allowed.
